Response to League of Women Voters Vote411 Voter Guide:

Do you favor legalizing marijuana for non-medical personal use in Delaware?

✓ Support

Explanation: “A 2016 poll conducted by the University of Delaware concluded that 61 percent of Delawareans are in favor of the state legalizing marijuana. In that same year Colorado (which, in 2012, became the first state to legalize) an election poll revealed that 61 percent of residents thought legalization had a positive effect on the state’s economy.

In addition to creating new jobs, estimates suggest we could bring in $22 million in tax income in the first year alone. That number would likely increase: The total revenue Colorado received from taxes, licenses, and fees increased from $76 million in 2014 to more than $200 million in 2016.

As for the impact on our children, interestingly enough, marijuana use among teens has gone down in Colorado since legalization.

Washington has seen similar decreases.

According to the American Journal of Public Health, Colorado has also seen a 6.5% reduction in deaths resulting from opioid abuse since legalization.”

✓ Support

Explanation: “I support legalizing marijuana. However, I know that in supporting such a shift, there must be a shift in so many other institutions to make this work and to ensure that citizens are not negatively impacted by its legalization. The safety of our residents is the highest priority. I view the legalization of marijuana as a possible new funding stream that could help the economy. Additionally, the legalization of marijuana should be accompanied by a reevaluation of our criminal justice system.”

Explanation: “However, we need to better understand experiences from other states that have implemented legalized marijuana. I strongly believe that Delaware needs to thoroughly study and learn from others states what is being done to tax and regulate the use of non-medical marijuana, specifically how sustainable revenues are being generated and applied to better their communities.”

Do you favor legalizing marijuana for non-medical personal use in Delaware?

✓ Support

Explanation: "I support, in concept legalizing marijuana for non-medical personal use. We can learn from Colorado and other states who have already legalized marijuana how best to legislate this to avoid the problems that they went through. A Pew Research Center survey indicated that 61% of Americans support the legalization of marijuana. Other recent reports show that marijuana does not contribute to medical diseases such as cancer, heart disease, or pulmonary disease."

✓ The candidate chose not to mark a box

Explanation: “I am supportive of the medicinal value of marijuana along with reducing its criminality. Far too many people, particularly people of color, are incarcerated for its use and crowding prisons with these minor offenses. Legalization would create jobs and boost the economy. Still, there is need for reasonable concern over the ability to regulate use of marijuana. I would want to study the issue further, understand the proposed legislation and consider the precedence for its legalization.”

I would need answers regarding regulations and quantities to guarantee that the use is safe and regulated. I have concerns about the over population in today’s prison systems with offenders of marijuana quantities that are below felony level.”

✓ The candidate chose not to mark a box

Explanation: “As a retired New Castle County Police officer who used to enforce these laws, I cannot say that I am not conflicted about this legislation. Legalizing marijuana for non-medical personal use is a hotly debated issue across the country not just here in Delaware. Any law legalizing marijuana needs to address the rights of employers to insist on a drug free environment as in some cases the safety of the employee and the public depend on it. I will acknowledge that too many people have arrest records stemming from clearly personal use arrests. In some cases these arrest records have prevented individuals from gaining meaningful employment and this has to change. Each situation needs to be judged on its own merits. As your legislator, I would be open to hearing all sides of this issue and consider solutions that balances the interests of all.”

Response to League of Women Voters Vote411 Voter Guide:

Do you favor legalizing marijuana for non-medical personal use in Delaware?

✓ Oppose

Explanation: “I would put public health and safety above increases in tax revenue. Based on physicians and university research, there is very little research on the long term medical effects of recreational marijuana use or public safety implications such as how legalized marijuana use impacts use of other drugs or traffic fatalities. There is evidence that a developing brain up to age 25 is negatively impacted by marijuana use. Therefore, until additional evidence-based information is available, I would oppose legalizing marijuana for non-medical use. I understand parents’ concerns that teens seem to have access to marijuana anyway and there is little protection and uncertain quality. I support additional education and research, as well as Division of Public Health testing for bacterial and fungal pathogens and other contaminants. I support review of the level of criminalization for small amounts of marijuana and advocating for treatment when usage suggests this is a healthcare issue.”

✓ Oppose

Explanation: “This citizen-led 61% popular voter movement to legalize recreational marijuana is a complex issue and deserves major scrutiny. It is not going away. My driver safety, addiction and adolescent safety concerns lead me to agree with some supporters and many lawmakers that there are too many safety and regulatory issues surrounding legalization of nonmedical marijuana. A year after legislators began debating the bill to legalize recreational marijuana aimed at taxing and regulating the drug, the Bill failed in the House despite its amended legislation to address key safety and regulation concerns about impaired driving; distribution of the drug; packaging and labeling requirements; prohibited products resembling candy and cartoon characters; employers not obligated to allow marijuana activities; individuals prohibited from driving under the influence; devices to measure THC... Supporters assert that marijuana has medical benefits; creates jobs and boosts the economy.”
